

Service on Demand

Emergencies happen. In 2008 our area was hit by winds from a hurricane and in 2009 local power went out for more than a week during an ice storm in the winter. Jacobi Oil Service was able to help our local firefighters, police, hospitals and other emergency crews stay fueled so they could respond to these crises. During these emergencies we even had to fill their squad cars and emergency vehicles while they got a little well-deserved rest.

We also provide emergency fillups for many generators. We fill them for utility companies (telephone, water, power, internet), medical companies and hospitals (dialysis units and medical imaging units), and banks and other businesses. In most cases, we can guarantee a maximum 2-hour delivery time for emergency generators in our local area.

Coast Guard Certified

A Jacobi Oil Tugboat delivery—Jacobi Oil Service is also certified by the United States Coast Guard to deliver fuel from our tankwagons and transports over the Ohio River.
